CIVIC UNION HEARS TALK ON HARBOR

Coast Organization Addressed by R. C. Speakers

CO. PORT TOPIC

Background Pictured By Secretary of Committee

"San Mateo county will never realize its birthright as a great industrial area until it has a deep water harbor," said Howard I. Wood, executive secretary of the San Mateo county harbor committee, in an address Tuesday before the members of the Coastside Civic Union at Half Moon Bay.

J. Elmer Morrish, president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, was also a guest and spoke briefly. He said the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce would be glad to assist to the best of its ability in any matters in which the coastside group was interested.

Secretary Wood, in his talk, said in part: "Congressman John J. McGrath, who has been most active in plans for harbor development in San Mateo county, has urged us to proceed with the formation of a legal district. In a letter of April 21 written from Washington, D. C., Congressman McGrath said, 'My long distance opinion is that we would be in a much better position to secure the proper recognition if we could show to the president that active and concrete steps are being taken locally to make the harbor district a reality. If you believe that the local sentiment can be crystalized for the June election I believe that it would materially strengthen our hands here.'

"Col. T. M. Robbins, United States division engineer in charge of all harbor matters on the west coast from the Mexican to the Canadian line, was enthusiastic when he learned that definite steps had been taken to form a harbor district. There is a great public works bill pending in congress which will carry over $3,000,000,000 for the revival of employment and industry. The government may make direct grants of funds from this source for worthwhile public improvements. Advices from our representatives in Washington are to the effect that the president has asked the rivers and harbors committee of congress to recommend at least $100,000,000 of harbor projects to be included in the public works measures.

District Costs Nothing

"Congressman John J. McGrath of our district and Congressman Albert E. Carter of Oakland, member of the rivers and harbors committee, are both endeavoring to get the San Mateo county harbor project into the public works bill with the possibility of a fairly large work relief project on federal funds in the event that their efforts are successful.

"The formation of the district itself does not cost the county anything nor does it include any financial commitment. It simply creates a harbor district and elects three commissioners to serve without salary. If the commissioners should later negotiate a grant of funds under the public works bill in connection with the harbor project they would have to ask authority in another election of the voters of the district before they could close such a deal with the government."

The speaker reviewed the steps which had been taken since 1930 when the present harbor case was started. "Why do you find practically no industrial plants south of South San Francisco?" asked Secretary Wood.

"The answer is that the railway switching limit ends at South San Francisco. Plants within the switching zone enjoy the same rates on incoming raw material and outgoing products as San Francisco, Oakland, Richmond, etc. Farther down the peninsula in San Mateo county or Santa Clara county industries must pay an additional rate on materials coming in or going out. This differential against San Mateo county is sufficient to practically eliminate the possibility of utilizing the flat lands along the bay shore for industry. It can be overcome in one and only one way—by the establishment of a deep water harbor which would give us terminal rates and facilities.

"These rates acquired through the establishment of a deep water project would be effective in connection with 4,000,000 tons of commerce which normally moves by water in and out of the territory from Salinas to Burlingame. Shipments of such products

Coast Group Asks C. C. Aid For Highway

R. C. Secretary Will Be Asked to Form Co.-Wide Body

By unanimous action of the members present the Coastside Civic Union at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday at Half Moon Bay requested the chambers of commerce of San Mateo county to give their assistance and undertake the solution of the problem of the proposed coastside boulevard.

R. Guy Smith of Moss Beach, secretary of the organization, was directed to write to Howard I. Wood, secretary of the Redwood City chamber, and ask him to appoint a county-wide committee, with one representative from each chamber in the county, to see if the badly tangled road situation can be helped.

At a meeting of officers and directors of the chambers of the county at South San Francisco recently, Mr. Wood was appointed to name a committee representing chambers throughout the county to give assistance if possible in the coast road project.

The Coastside Civic Union is the oldest civic organization on the west side of San Mateo county. Its membership includes all communities from the southern to the northern end of the coastside. Judge Bettencourt is president.

At the meeting Tuesday evening most of the members present were of the opinion that the idea of building the highway around Pedro mountain on the old railway right of way should be definitely and forever abandoned because of the report of County Engineer James S. James that a highway cannot be maintained even at an exhorbitant maintenance cost across the serpentine formation known as Devil's Slide.

Members urged that the organization turn from the old vexatious course of trying to acquire the railway right of way, give attention to the new right of way over the mountain which has been pronounced entirely feasible, and try to make actual headway.

COAST ROAD JUDGMENT IS VACATED

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Monday vacated a judgment for $112,000 awarded to the Ocean Shore Railroad Company and the McNee Company for a five-mile stretch of highway right of way at Pedro Point.

The motion was made by Attorney Herbert Keyes of Keyes & proceedings brought by the high-Erskin, representing the railroad, as a preliminary step toward securing the heavy costs of litigation incurred in fighting the eminent proceedings brought by the highway district.

Superior Judge Maurice Dooling Jr., of Hollister, sitting here, set the price of $112,000, which the directors of Joint Highway District No. 9, who bought the eminent domain proceedings, refused to pay after getting an interlocutory de-

Directors Andrew Gallagher and George Ley refused to consent to paying this sum although it was acceptable to Chairman Manuel Francis of the San Mateo county board.

Keyes said that Henry Heidelberg, one of counsel for the highway district directors, would not oppose the motion to vacate the judgment.

The court then granted Keyes' motion.

This places the highway situation as it affects Pedro Point back where it originally started with the right of way reverting to the Ocean Shore. If there should be a change of mind, the directors would be required to begin the eminent domain proceedings all over again.

Refusal to accept the court's judgment places the heavy costs incurred by the Ocean Shore interests in fighting the eminent domain proceedings on the shoulders of the district. These costs have been estimated between $25,000 and $50,000.

Money to Ward Off Diseases Requested

John Gill, city superintendent of schools, Monday asked the council by communication to provide funds to immunize children against contagious diseases. Heretofore the cost has been borne by other sources. The council referred the matter to City Health Officer I. C. Drathman.

Council Heeds Plea of City's Beer Sellers to Cut Licenses

Beer is not the popular drink it was April 7—the day it became legal—the city council was informed Monday by a group of 27 dispensers who asked for reduction in the city licenses.

The council as a result reduced the proposed $50 "on sale" license to $20 and allowed the $10 "off sale" license to stand.

This concession was made by the board in the face of the adoption of the city beer ordinance setting the licenses at $50 and $10. Because of the cost of reprinting the ordinance, the board did not make any changes before final adoption.

City Attorney Albert Mansfield said the council could instruct City Collector Nelle Miramontes to accept the lower license. The license for "on sale" consumption may be paid quarterly, and for "off sale" consumption must be paid yearly in advance.

R. O. Patterson, 858 Main street, presented the petition for reduction in the licenses. Henry Bowles, 2626 Broadway, also spoke in favor of the reduction.

The ordinance was adopted by motion of Councilman Charles Lambert, and second of Councilman George McNulty.

The reduced license fee was agreed to on motion of Councilman Paul McCarthy, who called beer the "common man's liquor."

COUNTY DELAYS

San Mateo county's proposed beer ordinance was continued today for three or more weeks until District Attorney Edmund Scott confers with city attorneys so that the provisions of the county code and those of the cities may not be in conflict.

Emil Bohm is Victim of S. F. Auto Accident

Coast Rancher Also Dead in Another Tragedy

Two peninsulans, including City Clerk Emil Bohm of San Bruno, were killed, and a third figured in a fatal San Francisco crash, as another week-end's traffic toll was tabulated today. Two of the three accidents occurred in San Francisco and the third at Colma.

In addition to these, a Sunnyvale marine was killed on the highway at Campbell, and a Mountain View man was fatally injured at the latter place.

Bohm, 27, city clerk and deputy assessor of San Bruno, was killed when thrown from his car in a three-vehicle crash at Third street and Williams avenue, San Francisco, late Saturday.

Bohm's car and one driven by Fred Beisswanger, 1545 Newcomb avenue, San Francisco, first collided, police reported. The former's car then spun around and collided with one driven by Dudley B. Gunn, 2790 Green street, San Francisco. Bohm was driving south on the highway at the time of the crash, police reported. He was dead when taken from the wreckage of his car.

Bohm is survived by his widow, Helen, and a son, Warren, aged five months. They live at 442 Mastick avenue, San Bruno. Bohn took office in 1928 and was re-elected in 1932.

Rancher is Killed

Amando Pierucci, 30, employed on the Paul Landi ranch near Salada Beach, was killed Sunday when an automobile overturned on the Colma road near the Skyline boulevard.

Landi, driver of the car, escaped with minor injuries.

Involved in Crash

Raymond Beasley, 25, of 28 Hillcrest drive, Daly City, was arrested by San Francisco police and held for manslaughter after Julian Fienberg, 40, deputy San Francisco county assessor, died in an automobile crash at Fifteenth and Church streets, San Francisco.

In Beasley's car were his wife, Catherine, 23; Miss Veda Wolfe, who lives with them, and Fred Somers, 25, of 3222 22d street, San Francisco.

Beasley and the others were treated for cuts and bruises.

Sunnyvale Marine Dies

Co. Charter Changes Will Be Discussed

Qualification Board, Supervisor Voting 'On Carpet'

Proposed amendments to the San Mateo county charter will be discussed in the courthouse here tomorrow night by a special committee named last night at San Mateo by the San Mateo County Federation of Improvement Clubs and Associations.

Mrs. Mona Christensen of North Palo Alto, who discussed the subject last night, was named chairman of the group, which also included Heim Goldman, San Mateo attorney; T. Louis Chess, San Mateo; Alvin Hatch, Menlo Park, and others.

Subjects which might be put up to the people for a change were said to be the qualification board's alteration or elimination, the election of supervisors by districts instead of at large, and the fixing of a salary for the county treasurer.

The committee is instructed to study the charter and to propose amendments which the federation will consider at a special meeting May 24.

An effort to get these matters onto the June 27 ballot will be made.

SEQUOIA'S FACULTY IS REDUCED 6

Probation Teachers Dropped in View Of Economies

MAY BE REHIRED

Five Instructors in School Allowed Tenure

Wary lest the state legislature slash school budgets to the point where the present faculty could not be retained, the Sequoia Union High School trustees last week took the necessary precaution by dropping six probationary teachers.

Five other probationary teachers were rehired for the fourth year—giving them tenure, or permanent teaching status.

The board, according to President James D. Hedge, adopted a resolution voicing its disapproval of the school tenure law and recommending its modification.

The five teachers who were given tenure are:

Mrs. Louise Barker, Miss Montana Delbon, J. Edwin Spence, Claude van Patten and Miss Louise Watkins.

The six dropped teachers included three men and three women instructors.

They were notified that if funds are available, any or all of them might be subject to re-appointment.

It was necessary, Mr. Hedge explained, for the board to meet in special session last night to consider the 1933-34 faculty as teachers must be notified by May 15 whether they are to be rehired for the ensuing year.

The board has held off in the hope that the legislature might act on school charges and on a two-year lifting of the application of the tenure law. Neither of these steps had been settled by the legislature, however, and the board's action was therefore immediately necessary, Mr. Hedge explained.

The revised Sequoia faculty, including Principal A. C. Argo, vice-principals and instructors, now numbers 53.

Bay Region's Sleep Broken By Temblors

Slumbering Redwood City residents awoke with a start shortly before 4 o'clock Tuesday when earthquakes rocked the community.

The San Francisco bay region and an encircling area of 200 miles was jolted by two hard quakes, according to the United Press.

No injuries, no fires and only minor property damage were reported from the scores of cities within the zone of the temblor.

The twin shocks were characterized as the heaviest Northern California tremor in eight years by Prof. Perry Byerly, seismologist of the University of California.

The initial shock was recorded at 3:46 a. m. The instruments were in motion for 15 minutes, in unusually long recording.

A survey indicated that the quake zone was bounded by Watsonville, 80 miles to the south; Stockton, 90 miles east; and Marysville, in the Sacramento valley, 150 miles north.

Sleeping San Francisco was thoroughly aroused by the temblors. A near panic occurred in Chinatown as excited Orientals thronged narrow Grant avenue.

State-Breds Holding Own at Tanforan

California breds are more than holding their own in the spring racing at Tanforan and promise to do as well in the early summer meeting to open Thursday, May 25. Winners in the thrilling struggles out on the mile oval come from haras in San Mateo, Contra Costa, Santa Clara, Alameda, Monterey, Kern, San Diego and other counties. That the breeding of thoroughbreds is wide spread in the state is mainly due to the efforts of the Pacific Coast Breeders Association, which put Tanforan on the racing map three years ago and has held seven successful sessions of the sport.

An interesting victor the other day was the three-year-old filly Skipsea, bred by John P. Atkin, who is to be director of racing at the meet opening next week. Atkin has long been a student of blood lines and when the opportunity offered of sending the Donnacona mare Oharasan to the court of Brig O'Doon, premier stallion at Elmwood Farm, he availed himself of it. Skipsea was the result of the mating.

EDITORIALS

Momentous Undertaking

President Roosevelt has the approval of every individual and nation in his world peace proclamation addressed to fifty-four countries on Tuesday. His message rang around the world calling for universal peace among nations and it was welcomed in every land as an omen of good will and a death blow to war.

President Roosevelt has the commendation of his countrymen in the bold way he has struck out to save belligerent countries from the ravages of war. His declaration to congress, "The way to disarm is to disarm; the way to prevent invasion is to make it impossible," are words that will ring down the ages.

The president has everyone behind him in this world peace movement. Americans are proud of their leader and will give him every support regardless of party affiliations.

State Murders

The legislature that has just adjourned has passed many useful laws. In failing, however, to adopt the anti-hanging bill the members made a grave mistake. This bill should have been adopted. No doubt the next legislature will take it up and pass it. Capital punishment is a relic of the dark ages. It has no place in this intelligent and progressive age.

The act was passed by the assembly but defeated in the senate by an almost unanimous vote. Many states of the country have abolished capital punishment. One would think that California being a leader of progressive legislation might be the first to adopt such a humane measure.

The taking of a life by the state is murder and nothing short of it. It should be stopped.

SAVE 2 WAYS

In first cost. Prices have never been so low and may never be so low again.

In operating cost. You will receive FULL SERVICE of hot water in your home at one-half the per gallon cost.

You spend to save when you buy an AUTOMATIC GAS WATER HEATER

THIS is no time to neglect thrift. It is no time to waste money. You do neither when you heat water by means of an Automatic Gas Water Heater. After all, it is just plain arithmetic, being proved daily in thousands of California homes, that you spend to save when you have an Automatic installed in your home.

Consider this: If you are using a water heater that has to be lighted with a match, and also frequently resort to tea kettle hot water, every gallon of water so heated costs twice as much as it would if hot water were always on tap from the insulated tank of an Automatic.

You should investigate this form of saving in your home. You should take advantage of the low prices of these truly modern Automatic Gas Water Heaters. Prices have never been as low, and right now special easy-to-purchase terms are in effect.

See a representative of this company today or consult your local gas appliance dealer. An Automatic can be purchased this month for as little as $4.85 down and $3.85 a month. Act now on this thrift-wise suggestion.

He is survived by his wife, Josephine Becker Green, and four brothers and a sister. The funeral Tuesday morning from the Church of the Nativity was largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The deceased was a native of San Francisco, aged 54 years.

CIVIC UNION

through Redwood Harbor as against Oakland or Richmond would mean a saving of anywhere from 25 cents to $1 per ton to the shipper and would mean the development of much industrial activity such a boxing, crating, packing, labeling, canning and refrigerating in and about the harbor.

Time to Act is Now

"Students of industrial matters have said that the establishment of a harbor in a favorable location in San Mateo county would mean after the return of normal business the eventual additional employment of more than 1,000 men.

"I do not want to paint a picture which is too rosy. The country has been desperately sick. We believe the turn has come and we hope we are on the way to better things. Whether the turn has actually occurred we cannot be sure, but we do feel sure it will occur sooner or later. When things do return to normal if we have not built the harbor in the meantime we will awaken to find that we are still a great commuters' county and that the principal and almost the only source from which we can raise revenue is upon the homes of the commuters and the retail business of the peninsula.

"To increase taxation from this source would almost mean confiscation. Yet, to provide the public services such as schools, junior colleges, colleges, highways, streets, sewers, police protection, etc., costs twice as much per family as the revenue from a commutors' home.

"The only solution is the development of new sources of taxes, and the only possible new development is that of industry, and industry cannot be developed until the peninsula becomes terminal territory with rates on a par with San Francisco, Oakland and Richmond.

"It has been estimated that the first unit of harbor development on Redwood creek including docks, wharfs, etc., could be completed at a cost of $250,000. This is incomparably the least costly justified harbor project in the history of the Pacific coast. The city of Richmond has spent over $5,000,000 to date in the development of its inner harbor. It had practically no commerce to draw from when the harbor was built. Yet, the investment was successful in that it brought the great Ford plant to Richmond. The basic condition required by the Ford Company was deep water shipping immediately at its door. There will be other Ford plants or other great manufacturers established in the San Francisco bay area. The question of whether they are situated in San Mateo county or in some other county depends absolutely upon whether or not we claim our birthright and make deep water shipping available in the near future."
